

Dancing Peacock Japanese Maple

(Acer japonica aconitifolium Mai Kujaku)

Named in Japanese for its large divided leaves, like peacock tails swaying in a breeze, it is also peacock-like in its brilliant range of fall colors. As wide as tall. Full sun (with adequate moisture) to part shade. 15 ft x 15 ft. Also known as Fern-leaf maple.